FAQs

Do I have to store the rebounders at my venue?

Boogie Bounce rebounders fold away quickly and come with carry bags. You can store them neatly at your venue, stack them out of the way, or take them home with you (you can fit approximately 15 folded rebounder in the boot of a medium sized car) — whatever works best for your setup.

How do the rebounders stack?

Simply remove the main leg (where the handle slots in) and the rebounders become stackable. Elite models stack up to 16 high, and Studio rebounders stack up to 8 high.

Do you offer credit or payment plans?

Yes. We work with Klarna who offer options for purchasing both equipment and training.

How many rebounders do I need to start a class?

This is completely up to you, but we usually recommend starting with 10–20. Teaching a class takes the same effort regardless of numbers — so more rebounders help you maximise your earning potential.

What is the difference between the two rebounders?

The main difference is the bounce system: Elites use bungees, Studios use springs. Both models weigh the same, meet the same rigorous safety standards, and fold to the same size. It simply comes down to your budget and personal preference.

What is the warranty for commercial use?

All rebounders come with a 6-month warranty on all parts, excluding the foam grips. Spare parts are available to purchase on our website should you ever need them.

How does zoning work if I choose this option?

Rave & Rebound does not automatically include a protected postcode zone. If you would like an exclusive area, you can upgrade for £24 per month. This also gives you access to teach all other Boogie Bounce programmes.

Do instructors get a discount on rebounders?

Yes. Instructors receive discounted equipment pricing. Contact us for details.

Do I need prior fitness qualifications?

No prior qualifications are required. We have qualified and non-qualified training available.

FAQs

How do I purchase rebounders once I'm trained?

After passing your training, you can order directly through the Instructor Area of our website or request an invoice from our team.

How long does the training take?

Our online training is fully self-paced. We recommend allowing 2–3 months to practise and complete your assessment, but you're welcome to finish sooner if you feel ready. Face-to-face training occurs every two months.

Is the course accredited?

Yes — all Boogie Bounce training courses are endorsed by EMD.

Why do I need to purchase the music separately?

The music is PPL-free. We license it on your behalf, and you then purchase it from us. Because it's PPL-free, you can run unlimited classes without worrying about expensive annual PPL fees.

Do I need to sign a contract?

Yes. Your contract grants you permission to use the Rave & Rebound branding, choreography, and music, and outlines your monthly licence fee. You can cancel at any time with 30 days' notice.

How do I receive new routines and music every 8 weeks?

Routine videos, and choreography notes are delivered through our Instructor Portal. And you can purchase music albums to download through the instructor section of our website.

What ongoing support do you offer?

Our head office in Staffordshire is available by phone or email. Our master trainers have years of industry experience, and the Instructor Portal is packed with marketing materials, resources, and guidance to help you launch and grow your classes confidently.
